Babies Are Taking First Steps Everyday

We are open and we are ready for you to join our new and growing family. The Baby Belugas are having a ball as they are exploring so many new sounds, textures, words, and muscles they are learning to use. This is very exciting to see how happy they are.

The Turtle Tots will not be outdone. Their new found freedom in walking and talking makes them the Lil' Seniors on this campus and they know it. From writing on the chalk- wall to talking in their little kitchen, the Tots are learning as they are exploring. Their love for books and stories are evident by their amazing participation to tell the story during reading time. One of their skills we are all waiting to see unfold is setting the table for lunch.

Stay tune to the updates. These Turtle Tots are moving much quicker than your regular "Joe-Blow" turtle...there is nothing, and we mean, nothing slow about these Lil' Tots.

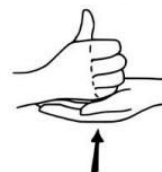

HELPFUL COMMUNICATION SIGNS

ASL American Sign Language suggests that these hand signs can help your growing baby be less frustrated by being able to express his or her needs through signing. Try it. For more information, please visit our website at www.jewellmoore.com.

Cuddling Down Through the Third Generation

My mom raised eight children on her own and cared for many relatives and neighbors children's as well. She has been nurturing ever since I've

her,

and that is over 50 plus years. She and I had the awesome opportunity to nurture my grand boys and her great grand boys. To be in a mother's arms is to be loved.

When It Comes to Infant-Toddler Care and Development, It's All About the Relationships

THE POWER OF PRIMARY CAREGIVERS

"An excerpt...When pre-K for three- and four-year-olds is discussed, it's taken as a given that students should have a consistent teacher throughout the year with whom they can build a warm, supportive relationship in order to enhance their learning. Science increasingly tells us this is also true for infants and toddlers. While infant and toddler care doesn't generate the same amount of debate as pre-K it's time to follow the research and move towards practices that will strengthen the very first stages of the birth to third grade continuum."

November 23, 2016. 12 Baskets Food Pantry will distribute food from 1-3pm. Last distribution in October, we had a visit from Little Miss Reagan who holds many, many titles as a little princess. Reagan worked hard at the Food Pantry passing out Food bags to neighbors . Great work Reagan.
